

Global Colleague

Improving the Process of Law

Customized E-Discovery Services: Delivering Results, Not Surprises

Your legal team deserves an electronic-discovery partner that is rigorous in its work, responsive to your needs, and predictable in its pricing. Global Colleague can deliver all this and more. Our proven track record is your assurance of responsive, rigorous, and personal service that allows litigators to plan better case strategy, and, most critically, deter reputation-damaging sanctions. And our services fees are cost-effective and predictable. We don't believe in churning projects to justify unnecessary fees. We deliver results, not surprises.

Global Colleague has pioneered a blended resource model that combines highly qualified legal professionals from around the globe with advanced technology and proven processes. We bring varying levels of expertise, multiple language capabilities, and the ability to match just the right resource with the unique needs of each particular client.

This consultative approach means we can work efficiently and appropriately, making sure every client receives the best possible service at the most reasonable rate possible.

And Global Colleague uses the latest in project management and collaboration technologies to ensure that you always are informed about your project's status. From collection to processing to review, we customize our reporting and communication processes to meet the requirements of each project.

Experience you can count on

Global Colleague project managers and managing directors have handled many of largest discovery and review projects undertaken anywhere in the past decade in the fields of antitrust litigation and clearance, the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, employment, intellectual property, and insurance litigation.

Whether part of our overall managed services or a stand-alone project, Global Colleague partners to provide e-discovery services that meet the unique requirements of every client. We take pride in our ability to customize our e-discovery services to meet every client's timeframe and budget expectations.

Customized E-Discovery Services from Global Colleague: How We're Different

Rigorous

Our experienced professionals deliver what litigators need to make effective decisions and avoid unnecessary costs. We have proven experience that you can count on.

Responsive

We carefully match the appropriate resource to each particular aspect of our work. Clients receive exactly what they need, when they need it.

Predictable

Our pricing is fair and predictable. We deliver results, not surprises in the form of an unexpected invoice based on unnecessary project inflation.